Co. 21, CAMP FARRAGUT,
GREAT LAKES, Ill., Jan. 19, 1918.

J. H. Keith and Family, Ironton, Mo.:
Dear Folks—Hope this finds all of well, as it leaves me feeling fine and in the best of spirits. I would like to see all of you, or at least receive a letter from you. I haven't received a letter yet, but I guess I haven't had time.

This is the finest kind of life, and if there's anything to a fellow he certainly ought to make a man of himself.

It's pretty hard to drill two hours per day when it's 20 and 30 below zero, but every precaution is taken to safeguard the health of the men. When a fellow has to do sentinel duty out of doors they bundle him up so you can't see anything but his eyes. So far I've been lucky and have only been on guard duty inside my barracks.

I am going to describe a little of our daily life to you; it may seem hard to you, but it's almost play.

Reveille is blown at 5 o'clock and everybody must "hit the deck." Then all hands pitch in and sweep out, scrub the floor and wipe all the woodwork with cloths. Then at 6:50 the fellows on "mess detail" go out to the mess hall and get "chow" for our barracks and serve it in the barracks. We always have plenty, too. After "mess" the boys on "cleaning detail" have to sweep and dust again. Then we have roll-call about 7:45. At 9:00 o'clock our Company Commander comes to the door of our "home" and yells, "Fall in by twos outside!" which means line up for drill. From 9:00 to 10:15 we drill to the tunes of "right dress," "about face," "squad right," or "left," "squad right," or "left about" and other drill lingo. We are doing fine at drill, considering the fact that scarcely any of them have had any drill experience.

We come back then and have mess. We have drill again in the afternoon and then play push-ball for an hour or so. Then we have supper and clean up the barracks again. We can do as we please till 8:55, when first "taps" blows; then we have to get ready for bed and everybody must be in bed by 9:05.

We have to stay here in detention for three weeks, then we go to Camp Perry where we get three weeks' training in Radio Telegraphy. Then, if we make a certain grade, we get a six days' furlough. I'm sure going to make that grade. Then we are sent to Harvard where we get our rating. We are studying the telegraphy codes all the time. I have to take two more "shots" for typhoid in a few more days. I'll probably get my uniform to-morrow.

Well, I'll have to close for this time as it's nearly time for "taps." Be sure and write; all of you.

With lots of love,

PAUL.

Registration of Alien Enemies.

Persons required to register should understand that in so doing they are giving proof of their peaceful dispositions and of their intention to conform to the laws of the United States.

Every registrant should read carefully the form of registration affidavit handed to him and ask the registration officer for explanation on all points not clear to him before attempting to fill out the blanks. Registration officers are instructed to give registrants all possible aid in the way of explanation and advice.

Each registrant is required to furnish four unmounted photographs of himself, not larger than 3 by 3 inches in size, on thin paper, with light background. All four photographs should be signed by the registrant across the face of the photographs, so as not to obscure the features, if the applicant is able to write.

Three blank forms of registration affidavit must be completely filled out by the registrant or his representative (with the exception of the blanks indicated to be filled out by the registration officer and the description of the registrant and the placing of finger prints on the blank) and must be produced by the registrant personally to the registration officer and be signed and sworn to by the registrant in the presence of and before the registration officer, who will fill in the description of the registrant and supervise the fixing of the finger prints and the attaching of the photographs. If the registrant can not write he must make his mark in the signature space and affix his left thumb print in the space provided opposite the signature space.

The finger printing is a method of identification and follows the practice observed in the military and the naval service of the United States.

The registrant is hereby informed that he must again present himself before the registration officer who took his oath after 10 days but before 15 days from the last day fixed for registration in his registration district to obtain a registration card, upon which he must sign his name, or make his mark, and place his left thumb print in the presence of the registration officer.

Express Company Ordered to Handle Liquor Shipments.

(Poplar Bluff Republican.)

That there is no distinction in the handling of liquors as express in wet and local option territory within the state was shown in a decision rendered by Judge John Gloriot, sitting as Special Judge in the Circuit Court here Friday.

Several months ago the Wells Fargo Express Company refused to handle liquor shipments destined to points in local option territory. The James R. Hogg Distilling Company and the Kirkhoff Distilling Company of this city, who up to this time had enjoyed a very lucrative mail order business, appealed to the courts for relief.

The case was heard by Judge J. P. Foard in the July term of the Circuit Court, and a temporary writ was issued, whereupon the Express Company appealed to the Supreme Court to issue a writ of prohibition, which would, of course, have prohibited Judge Foard's order from becoming permanent. The Supreme Court refused to grant the writ, and the case was remanded to the Circuit Court, where it was heard by Acting Judge John Gloriot last Friday, and the writ of mandamus was made permanent.

This case has been watched with much interest, as it affected not only the shipper, but a vast number of patrons in local option territory, who were accustomed to ordering liquors and having same sent to them by way of express.

It has been authentically reported that the Express Company will resume shipment of liquor where same is for personal use.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. B. H. Marbury for Congress.

(Farmington Times.)

Hon. W. L. Hensley, present member of Congress from this district, will not be a candidate for re-nomination and re-election. So he stated in an authorized statement from Washington, D. C., and in an interview in Miami, Okla., and has so stated in personal conversation with his friends here at home. We, therefore, conclusively assume that Mr. Hensley has voluntarily withdrawn from Congress.

The Thirteenth Congressional District is one of the most important districts in Missouri, or, for that matter, in the United States; her citizenship and her financial wealth should demand one of the ablest and best equipped to represent her in Congress; he should be well educated, of sound judgment and unimpeachable character, and should be loyal to President Wilson and the Federal Administration; he should be able to lead his party in the political discussions during the fall campaign.

The Times believes that all these qualifications and more are possessed by Hon. Benj. H. Marbury, and that he, in many respects, is the ablest Democrat of this district along these lines.

The Times herewith presents his claims as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress.

Abusing Patients Frowned Upon.

(Farmington Times.)

J. W. Bradley, who for a short period had been serving as an attendant at State Hospital No. 4, early Tuesday morning attacked E. B. Staton, who is a patient in that institution. No sooner was the matter brought to the attention of the Superintendent, Dr. J. L. Eaton, than a thorough investigation was made, which developed the fact Bradley had not only struck, but had choked the patient. Dr. Eaton then called up Sheriff Adams and asked that Bradley be arrested for assault. The Sheriff immediately went to the institution, arrested Bradley and brought him into Squire J. P. Zelman's court, where the prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge, was assessed fine and costs, which he paid, and immediately thereafter left town. He claimed Fulton, Mo., as his home.

This is the first trouble of the kind, that has occurred at Hospital No. 4 under its present management, and it seems a perfectly safe assumption that the practice of mistreating patients, which has often been entirely too common in some State institutions of this kind, will soon be made so unpopular at Hospital No. 4 that it will soon pass entirely from that institution. Dr. Eaton considers the abuse of patients there as the capital offense, and will absolutely refuse to tolerate such practices. He refuses even to permit abusive talk to patients by their attendants. One thing he unequivocally demands, and on which he will strenuously insist, is kind treatment of all patients from attendants. It is his idea that the patients in his care are entitled to the very best care that can be given them, and his purpose is to see that such treatment is accorded them.

Ironton Proof

Should Convince Every Ironton Reader.

The frank statement of a neighbor, telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe. The same endorsement by some strangers far away commands no belief at all. Here's an Ironton case. An Ironton citizen testifies. Read and be convinced.

J. H. Harris, Knob St., says: "My kidneys caused me a lot of suffering and I had backache and rheumatic pains in my limbs and joints. At times I could hardly stoop and it was just as bad to straighten. My kidneys acted too freely and the secretions were scanty and painful in passage. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from the Arcadia Valley Drug Co., and they not only strengthened my back but regulated my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine I ever used and the only one that ever gave me relief."

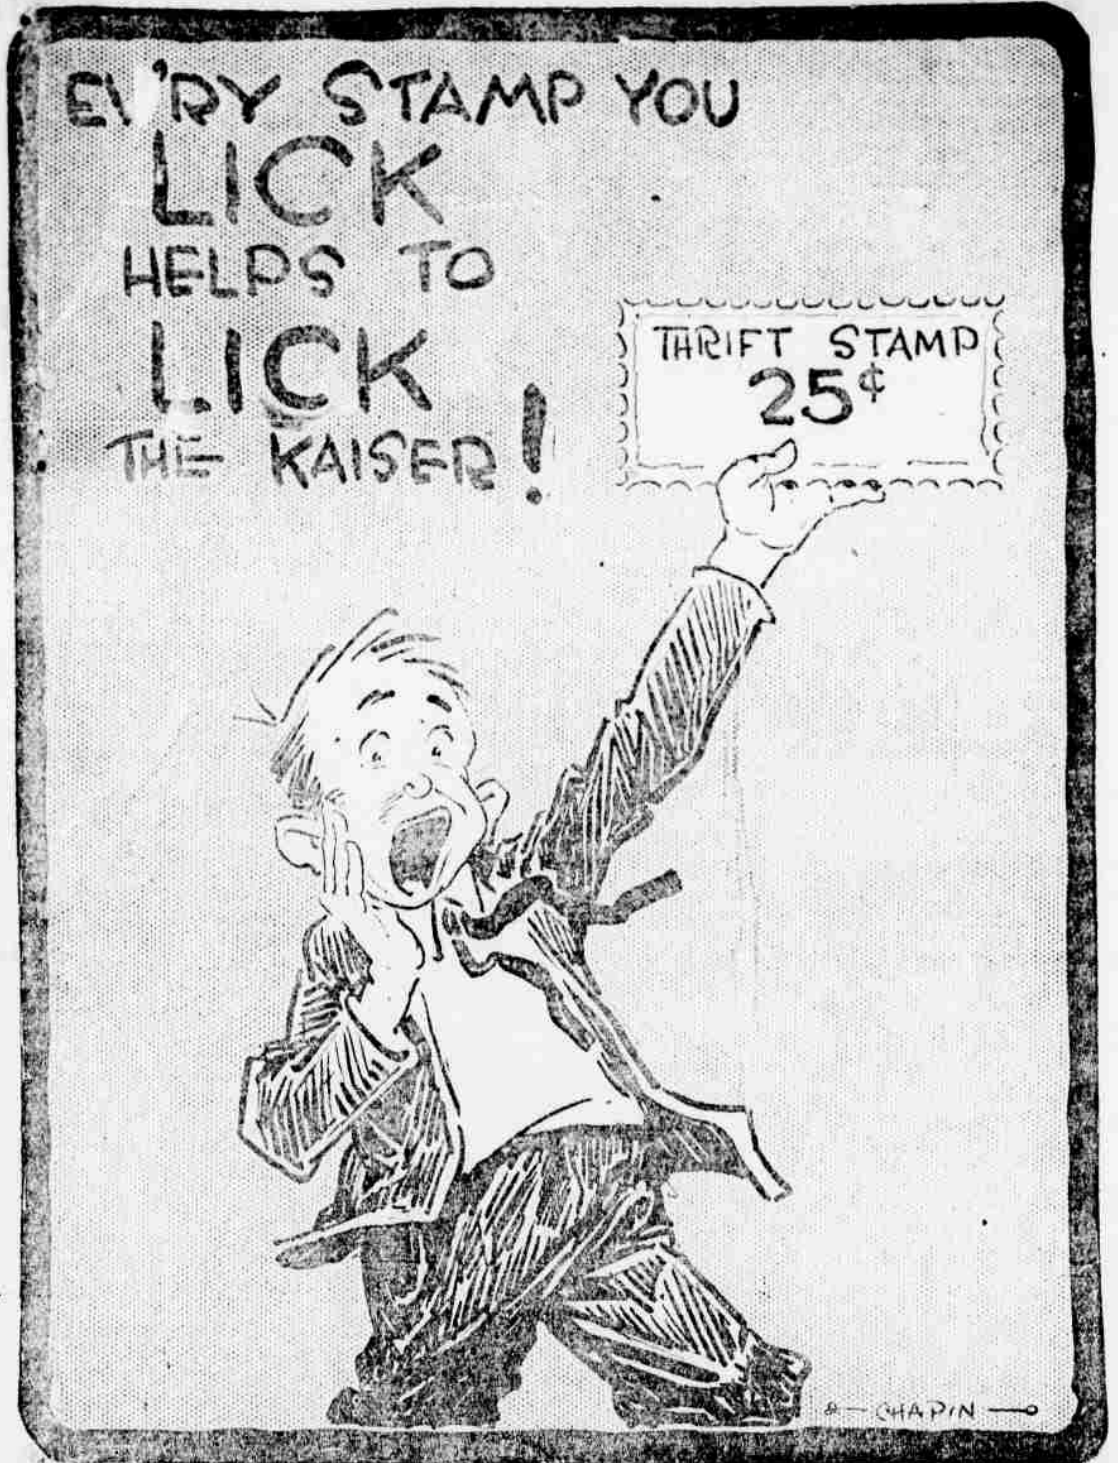

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Harris had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

This offer is also open to subscribers who receive their mail at post offices where the DAILY GLOBE-DEMOCRAT is not handled by local newsmen. The regular price of the DAILY GLOBE-DEMOCRAT, including SUNDAY, is now $7.50 per year, $5 per year, without Sunday, $5 per year; Sunday only, $2.50 per year; weekly, issued twice a week, 50 cents a year. "HI, KIDS..."

DELICIOUS CORN MUFFINS.

Here's an old fashioned recipe for corn muffins that has recently been revived and used with unusual success in several of the larger New York hotels: To make three and a half dozen muffins take one quart milk, six ounces butter substitute, twelve ounces of light syrup or honey, four eggs, pinch of salt, two ounces baking powder, one and a half pounds cornmeal and one and a half pounds rye flour. The butter and syrup should be thoroughly mixed; then add the eggs gradually. Pour in the milk and add the rye flour mixed with cornmeal and baking powder.

WHEATLESS BISCUITS.

Parched cornmeal is the feature of these excellent wheatless biscuits. First, the cornmeal—one-half a cup—is put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

Original "Green Room."

The original "green room" is said to have been painted green in order to relieve the eyes of actors dazzled by the glare of the footlights.
